Motivate and recognize

- Highlight how their work is helping and supporting the team.
- Praise them for the accuracy and precision of their work.
- Provide recognition for their specialized skill or loyalty, or for the effort within their team.

Provide direction and feedback

- Provide clear instructions of what is considered “right” to help them avoid criticism for doing it wrong.
- Be encouraging and supportive when providing feedback.
- Identify ambiguity early and provide enough details so that they can move forward quickly and confidently.

Delegate

- Don’t delegate work that will be subjected to a lot of changes.
- Do delegate structured work that requires a special skill set or precision.

Coach

Coaching is not the same as managing, but we know that managers often play a coaching role. Keep in mind that coaching conversations are about asking questions and letting the coachee come up with ideas, actions and next steps.

- Give them some time to think and then circle back at a later time to continue the conversation if needed; they may be quiet when receiving coaching or feedback, but they are likely just taking it all in.
- Help them find some low-impact, safe opportunities to take chances and find success, as they may not be comfortable bending the rules or taking risks.
- Show proof or evidence of how something worked in the past to limit their skepticism of something new and get them on board for action.
